ANOTHER BREAK ON STOCK MARKET

Weak Houses Had to Unload and Much Stock Offered Weakened Market.

MANY DISTURBING RUMORS

Market Rallied Somewhat Towards Closing Hour, But Last Figures Were Weak,

NEW YORK, March 19 .- To-day's nervous stock market was regarded as a natural consequence of the demoralization of last week, but the weakness and uneasiness were much more acute than were expected, and gave rise to fears at times that the market was breaking away from control again and slipping back into frenzied conditions. There are always some strongly held accounts which are held through a slump like that of last week, and protected in a spirit of assurance that they can be closed out to better advantage by waiting for the frightened selling of weaker holders to be ended. The strength of these acounts is impaired nevertheless to such an extent they are subjected to pressure by the strength of these acounts is impaired nevertheless to such an extent they are subjected to pressure by the subject of the subject of mands for gold should be forced on foreign markets. Cable reports were circulated in Wall Street to-day that the Bank of France was lending gold to the Bank of England, that the English bank authorities had requested New York bankers to refrain from bidding for gold in the London market, and that Berlin was liquidating securities in London on a large scale. At the same time, money and discounts were easier in London.

Money on call here showed further relaxation and the advance to a premium of New York exchange at Chicago indicated the process of remittances from that centre to this. Foreign exchange also was weak, in splite of the reported troubles of foreign money markets. The easier tendency extended to the time money market here, rates for which were quotably lower. The operations with the subtreasury are yielding some gain to the banks. The further liquidation in the stock market also. Another factor in the day's uneasiness came from that to the banks. The further liquidation in the stock market also. Another factor in the day's uneasiness came from the tone of the intimations given out by prominent capitalists in their new accessibility to newspaper reporters.

These intimations, though conveyed in vague form, were interpreted as evidences of rinner amongst different groups of capitalists. Insinualions that the scock market had been raided as a measure of reprisal by one group of capitalists. Insinualions that the scock market had been raided as a measure of reprisal by one group of capitalists. Insinualions that the scock market had been raided as a measure of reprisal by one group of capitalists. Insinualions that the scock market had been raided as a measure of reprisal by one group of capitalists. Insinualions that the scock market had been raided as a measure of reprisal by one group of capitalists. So the second and the closing was irregular, although at gubstantial recoveries from the lowest.

NEW ORLEANS, March 19.—COTTON—Closed steady and %c. lower, the decline being due directly to falling off in the demand for spot; middling, 10 11-16c. Sales were 1,800 bales on the spot and 200 to were 1,800 bales on the spot and 200 to arrive.

Futures opened barely steady, 3 @7 points under yesterday and closed stoady at a decline of 11@13 points below yesterday. The main factor in the decline was the falling off of demand for spots and the future market being left without support because of divided sentiment on the spot situation. Bulls argued that the decreased demand for spots is but temporary, while bears took it as an indication that the spinners wants are to be satisfied.

ON THE LOCAL MARKETS

EVERYTHING HIGH ON PRODUCE MARKET

The produce and fruit market was rather dull yesterday because of the small receipts. There was an active demand for pretty much everything on the market, and for many things not there, and hence prices kept up very well. The "between season" time is getting to be rather monotonous to the wholesalers and commission men.

Florida vegetables are by no means as plentiful as usual at this season of the year, and all fruits except bananas are getting rather scarce and high. Bananas are plentiful and somewhat cheaper than they have been. They are in the main of exceptionally good quality. Fowls continue scarce and high. There are practically no turkeys on the market and hardly enough other fowls to meet the demand. It is said that spring chickens were never known to sell so high on the market. Eggs are plentiful at 14 to 15 cents in crate lots.

Further Declines on Market Caused Richmonders to Operate Warily.

The shake-up in the New York stock market yesterday was not generally looked for by the Richmond traders and for quite a while after the opening at lowered figures they were puzzled and had but little comment to make, except to ask each other what it all meant. The unsettling reports from New York to the effect that one or more large houses were upon the point of going to the wall further demoralized the traders. However, as the day were on and no failures were announced, and some of the stocks showed signs of recovery, dealers regained their spirits and some business was done, though Richmond men touched stocks very gingerly.

The New York market opened some-The shake-up in the New York stock

Stocks very gingerly.

The New York market opened somewhat lower than Monday's closing, and began to sell off at once. Union Pacific lost nearly seven points at one time, and Reading about five. St. Paul lost four, and Copper the game number. Other stocks followed pretty much all along the line, losing from one to three points, and there was apparently no effort to stem the tide. It was carrly rumored that a very large account had been closed out, and there were also rumors of several impending fallies, but none were announced.

The market was nervous and excited all day, but just before the close there was a slight reaction, and several substantial recoveries were chalked on the board; but, on the whole, the day closed below the opening figures. The sales were 1,465,300 shares of stock and $1,525,000 of bonds.

Bonds have been weak, and new ones LARGER BREAKS

Bonds have been weak, and new ones practically unsalable for some weeks past. The cities of St. Louis and Philadelphia have both tried within the past few days to float city bonds that ordinarily would have been attractive, but dealers have not falled to notice that they did not get a single bid for them. These bonds were offered Monday.

The wonderful thing about this whole slumping business has been that no failures have so far resulted; but rumors come from New York that some are bound to come, and that quite soon. A telegram yestorday afternoon from Gotham said it was an open secret that at least one big failure will be announced at the opening of the Stock Exchange to-day. However, this big house may have got things patched up last night.

One telegram from New York on this subject reads as follows:

"It is said that three young operators socially prominent and so farmainly distinguished as being sons of their fathers, whose money was made in railroading in this State, street railroads and real estate, respectively, lost $20,000,000 or more between them The wonderful thing about this whole lost $20,000,000 or more between them in the recent panic."

Buys Coe Mill.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CLAREMONT, VA., March 19.—The amous Coe Mill, of near Cabin Point, and all the real estate pertaining thereto is now the sole property of F. H. Coe, he having just closed a deal whereby his silent partner, J. A. Coe, accepts property in New York State belonging to F. H. Coe in exchange for his interest in the Coe mill es-

The mill is very old, mess-covered and pictures us.

During the past year Mr. Coa erected a steam sawmill hear the old mill, and it is his intention some time in the future to apply steam as the motive power to the grist mill, that is, so he says, when the old water-wheel gives way to the rayage of time.
